

Half-term homework

As you may know, our next topic is all about the Titanic. We will be spending all term learning about this important piece of history.

For your half term homework, I would like you do some research about the Titanic. You have been given 5 cards on a treasury tag. I would like you to write a fact about the Titanic on the front and back of each card, so 10 facts in total. You may decorate them too. These cards will be used for something very special after half term so please keep them safe and present your facts beautifully.

Some things you may wish to research:

- On what date did the Titanic depart?
- What was the Titanic's route?
- What was the Captain's name?
- How many people were aboard the Titanic?
- Who saw the iceberg first?
- When did the Titanic sink?
- How many people survived?
- How many did not survive?
- What caused the Titanic to sink?

If you are currently absent, please write the facts down on a piece of paper and you can transfer them over when you return to school.

If you make anything else at home please do not bring it to school but feel free to attach photos to an email to the school office who will pass it on to me.

Have a safe and restful half term, I am so proud of how well you have settled in.
