

Homework week commencing 13th May 2024

I think by now we all know so much about plants and what they need to grow!

Well done to everyone for your hard work!

This week, we are focussing back on English with direct and reported speech, something that we have looked at when writing our newspaper articles for the Iron Man. Remember direct speech is a direct quote using inverted commas (speech marks), whereas reported speech is writing about what someone said so it is indirect without any speech punctuation.

All the best!

Kind regards,

Mrs Padam
